The KDR Challenge (Distracted Driving)

The KDR Challenge was created in memory of Kelsey Dawn Raffaele. KDR stands for Kids Driving Responsibly. Kelsey was killed in a traffic crash on January 24, 2010. She was just 17 years old. Several weeks after the crash, it was discovered that Kelsey had been talking on the phone as she went out to pass a car on ice covered roads. Kelsey's mom and aunt travel around Michigan telling Kelsey's story to high school and college students. The goal of the challenge is to save lives.

Michigan Trauma Coalition

The Michigan Trauma Coalition (MTC) is a non-profit organization comprised of over 60 trauma centers, health care professionals, and organizations dedicated to reducing traumatic injuries. Trauma is the fourth leading cause of death in the U.S. for all ages combined. Motor vehicle crashes are the leading cause of death for teens in the U.S. Injury prevention coordinators are available to deliver safe driving presentations to high schools throughout Michigan. The MTC Injury Prevention (IP) co-chair can help you locate a prevention specialist in your area.

Remembering Ally: Distracted Driving Awareness Campaign****

As a 16-year-old award-winning performer, Allysun (Ally) Zimmerman loved giving back to others. She had dreams of changing the world. But her dreams, along with her life, were taken away by a distracted driver. Jim Santilli, Traffic Improvement Association of Michigan Executive Director, Ally's family, and friends travel to high schools to spread Ally's story and increase awareness among drivers and passengers.

Remembering Olivia: Impaired Driving Awareness****

Olivia Cleveland was just 3 years old when her family's vehicle was struck by a drunk driver. The crash took her life. Her father, a police officer, was used to arresting drunk drivers and seeing the devastation caused by them, but he never imagined this happening to his own family. Olivia's parents and TIA's executive director travel to high schools to spread Olivia's story and increase awareness among drivers and passengers. The presentation features powerful messages.

Stay Alive Don't Text and Drive: Distracted Driving Awareness

Jacob Freybler, age 17, was a bright teen with plans for his future. He was working at a local Wendy's restaurant while attending Kenowa Hills High School in Grand Rapids. He had an internship scheduled with the Walker Fire Department because he wanted to be a firefighter. Jacob died on June 18, 2014, when his car crossed the center line and hit another car head on. Jacob was texting. The Freyblers did not want their son's death to be meaningless so they use his story while convincing others about the dangers of distracted driving.

Save a Life – Give a Lane – Move Over Law

For Michigan State Police Tpr. Drew Spencer, a routine traffic stop on Labor Day 2011 nearly ended his life because a passing driver did not move over. Trooper Spencer was struck by a vehicle but managed to recover from his injuries – which included multiple skull fractures, a separated shoulder, and a traumatic brain injury. Tpr. Spencer will discuss his experience and the danger all emergency personnel face while working along Michigan roadways.

ThinkFirst

ThinkFirst For Teens, a program of the ThinkFirst National Injury Prevention Foundation, is an award-winning public education effort targeting this high risk age group. ThinkFirst chapters across the United States present compelling educational presentations at no charge for junior and senior high schools. Health educators and VIP speakers - Voices for Injury Prevention - explain how injuries occur, how they affect the body and how they can be prevented. Students learn that one poor choice can change your life forever, so it is each person's responsibility to cut the risk for injury to themselves and others by making safe choices.

Hands-on Activities

Distracted/Impaired Driving (Southeast Michigan only)

Tpr. Tressa Duffin will set up a driving course with orange cones and have students drive a golf cart while trying to text with one of their classmates. This exercise quickly alerts teens to the dangers of texting and driving. The fatal vision goggles are also used to simulate impaired driving.

Driving Simulators (Distracted and Impaired)

The Office of Highway Safety Planning has placed driving simulators with law enforcement officers and traffic safety partners throughout the state. The simulator consists of a single all-in-one computer and monitor unit, foot pedals, and steering wheel. The software offers two choices, impaired or distracted driving awareness. To schedule a driving simulator, please contact a coordinator from the attached list.

InTEXTicating (Available to Mason, Oceana, Muskegon and Newaygo Counties)

After a brief classroom lesson on the dangers of distracted driving, students participate in a traffic cone course using a Global Electric Motor (GEM) car. Once students are comfortable with the operation of the car, distractions are introduced. One instructor rides in the passenger seat and instructs the driver when to turn, while another instructor sends text messages to the driver. The object is to try to answer the text messages and make the necessary turns without hitting cones.
